WELCOME TO OUR WEDDING GUIDE!

Congratulations on your engagement! No doubt this time in your lives is so unbelievably exciting, stressful, and full of romance all at the same time! I know how important it is to make your special day reflect your personalities and love perfectly, and can't wait to help you capture those special moments and details you've worked so hard on! As a wife looking back on my own wedding day, I am so thankful for the sweet memories that were captured by my own photographer, as well as the quirky details of that day that I don't want to forget! It is so important to me that you're able to look back on your wedding day years from now and remember the story of your day just like it was yesterday. So relax and know that your memories are in great hands! I can't wait to talk with you more about your style, your personalities, and hear all about your day! This wedding guide is packed with wedding photography info and tips, and of course, I'm here for any questions any time along the way.

Happy planning!!
Shannon

ABOUT SHANNON

lead photographer

Wife to an amazing man, mom to three wild and sweet kids, lover of Jesus, coffee, wine, and ALL things chocolate--I'm a self-taught photographer driven by the desire to make memories last for myself and my clients. Because we all know how it goes--those special moments pass, our children grow too fast, the big day is over before we know it.

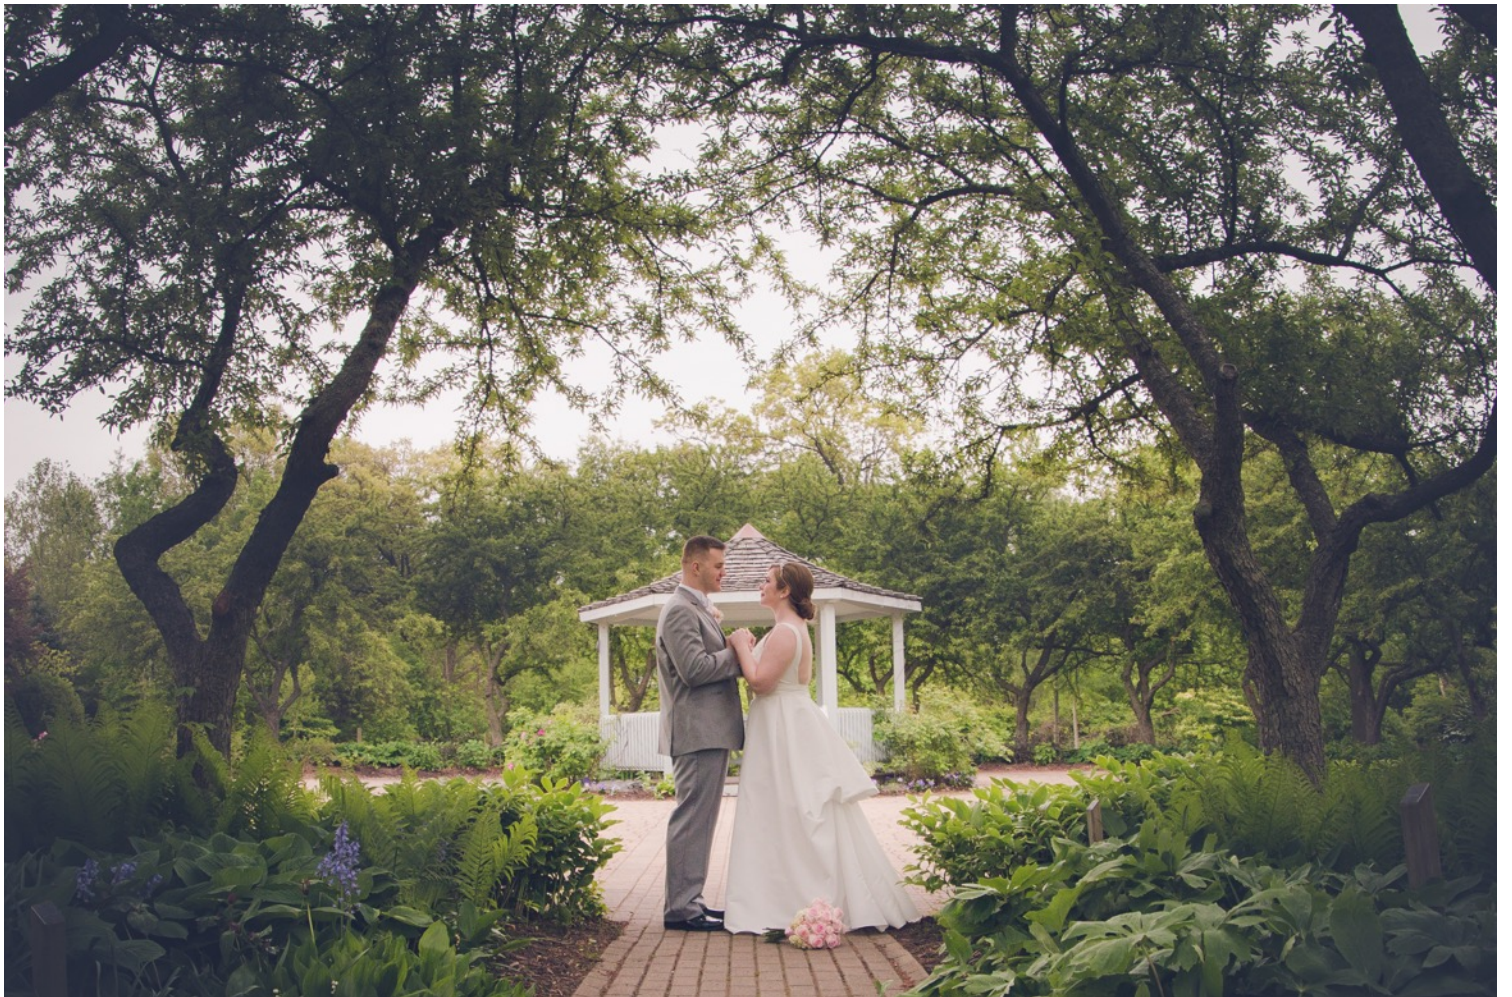

And if you're like me, you're left with just a cloudy memory, wishing you could go back there just one more time. So my home is flooded with the things that remind me of the moments I want to hold on to forever--books from my childhood, the lantern from my wedding, my orchids from my last several Mother's Day gifts. And pictures. LOTS of pictures! Capturing that little smile or sweet kiss on camera means that I'll never lose that moment. If you feel the same, let's talk! I think I can help.

ABOUT DEANN

associate photographer

I am the mother of two girly-girls and the wife to my best friend Sean. I went to Anderson University for Mass Communication, specializing in Broadcast Production. My goals with video production were always to tell a compelling story – through the words people speak, the visuals presented or the music that accompany them. Since having my kids, I have ventured into photography, taking pictures of our life events, our friends' families, and our kids. Lots and lots of our kids (just ask them!). Many technical aspects I learned in the video world have crossed over into photography, and I now use these still images to tell the story of a family, an event, a moment. Every person has a story, and the images we capture are a way to share those stories in a beautiful way.

Our Style

It's YOUR love story—we're here to help you remember it! Our favorite way to photograph is to let you be yourselves and sprinkle in just enough direction to capture your special moments in the most gorgeous way possible. We love putting an unexpected spin on something that might seem ordinary and show you the end result through our lenses. That lifestyle approach to both your wedding and engagement photos is the best of both worlds—your personality, story and love, and our eye for the most stunning way to capture it.

We also know that as the bride and groom, you have SO many uses for your wedding photos—and so we make sure you have ALL of your images! That way you can give your new mother-in-law the framed photo she wants, hang that artsy shot on a canvas above your own mantel, and still have plenty of detail shots, sweet ceremony photos, and the fun, behind-the-scenes candids you won't want to live without.

Make your day uniquely you.

YOUR ENGAGEMENT SESSION

The best investment you can make for your wedding day is to choose Lantern Tree to capture your engagement photos. The time you are engaged is such an exciting time of life, and we want to show that joy through our lens.

During your session, you can expect two photographers working together to capture the absolute best looks for you and your fiancé. Although we will pose you, we also love to let you two hang out while we click away to get great candid shots. The outcome will be fun, natural and professional images that you'll treasure.

The best advantage?? We get to KNOW each other! We want to see what your personalities are like, how you interact together, and what the best poses are for you. Plus, you get a feel for how we work, and we'll all end the session ready to rock out your wedding day photos and on the way to being best friends!

Location, Location, Location

Where to hold your engagement shoot?? We would love to go to a place special to you — your college campus, the town you met. Or we have so many great locations we love and can recommend — we can help you make a choice based on the time of year, your location and colors.

What to Wear

We want you to look and feel your very best during your session. So the number one rule is that you feel confident about what you have on from head to toe. From casual to classy, be yourself! And by the way, we love wardrobe changes, so you can have a variety of looks! Still indecisive? Send me your questions or concerns, and we can figure it out together!

How do we feel about first looks??
We're FOR 'EM!! :)

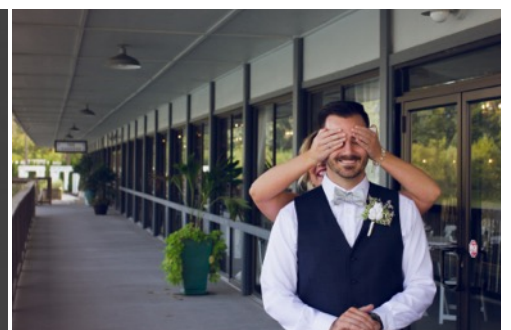

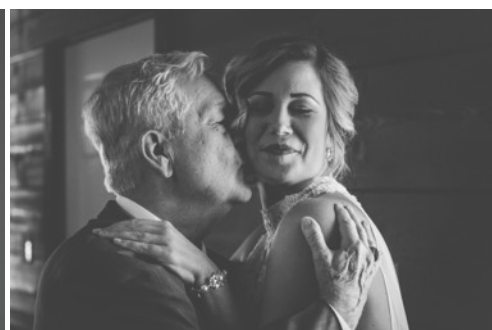

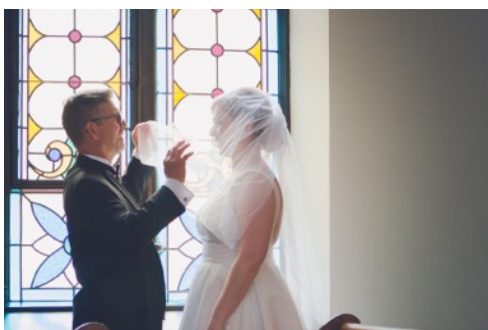

Most of the couples we first talk with are sure they do not want a first look on their wedding day — they'd like to wait until the ceremony for that magic moment. But we're here to tell you, first looks are a win-win-win for all of us, and we've never had a bride or groom regret the decision to have one!

We make sure your first look is intimate and between just the two of you — we let you have your moment and snap away from afar. You may not even know we're there! This also helps a lot of couples get out some of the jitters involved with walking down the aisle in front of hundreds of other people. This is your chance for a test-run! (PS — sometimes we can even make the first look happen in the aisle if you want!)

Logistically, the first look allows for more time in your day! Before the ceremony, we are able to get images of not only bride and groom but also the full bridal party. So typically the only pictures needed between the ceremony and reception are family groupings. That way, your wedding guests aren't waiting so long for the bridal party to arrive at the reception and get the party started!

And finally, our favorite reason to have a first look is that you can spend more of your special day together! Once you have that first special moment together, you are able to take a deep breath, relax and really enjoy the rest of your day!

Side note, brides, have you ever thought about having a first look with your dad? We can't say enough about how special it is to steal a quick moment of your wedding day with the first man who loved you!
